“Get aboard, Major,” a medic yelled. “The enemy is right behind you.” Ruby Bradley ignored the warning and ran back to the ambulance. One more wounded man was waiting. Bullets flew from the trees like angry wasps. There was little feeling in her frozen fingers but Ruby grabbed her end of the litter. “Let’s go,” she said. “Run, Major, run!” Voices from the plane shouted. They could see enemy soldiers emerging from the thick copse of trees. Strong hands reached down to grab Ruby’s end of the litter and quickly pulled it aboard. More strong hands reached for Ruby and the Corporal and threw them into the plane. With engines roaring the plane took off down the runway followed by a hail of bullets. Ruby picked herself up and glanced back through a side window. The ambulance she left moments earlier exploded in a tower of flame.

Unforgettable

By Diane Burke Fessler, author: NO TIME FOR FEAR, VOICES OF AMERICAN MILITARY NURSES IN WORLD WAR II

Ruby Bradley's story shows how brave the Army and Navy nurses were during imprisonment in the Phillipines. When she joined the Army Nurse Corps before WWII, never did she imagine the frightful experience the next few years would bring. Ruby and Beatrice Chambers were the only Army nurses stationed at Camp John Hay, the mountain base where the Japanese bombs first hit before bombing the bases at Manila. The small medical staff spent the next days constantly caring for the wounded being brought in to the Army hospital. When the enemy troops neared the nurses left with a small group to escape to the hillside. Eventually they were captured along with civilians in Baguio. For the next three years the nurses continued to care for those who suffered starvation and illnesses under a brutal enemy.

After being rescued, returning to the States, and resuming her Army nursing, Ruby Bradley volunteered for another war, Korea, and began the next exciting experience in her career. Read the book to find out what a remarkable woman she was.

I was honored to be able to interview Beatrice Chambers, who was at Camp John Hay, for my book, NO TIME FOR FEAR, VOICES OF AMERICAN MILITARY NURSES IN WORLD WAR II. What a story these two women shared.

I came to love Colonel Bradley as I was completing this book

By Spiceman1957

I read this book in less than two days. Being a nurse for 26 years, along with being in the Navy for three years (non-nursing) , I came to love Colonel Bradley as I was completing this book. Colonel Bradley seemed to be firm, but fair, serious, but had a witty sense of humor. As to her wounded patients (soldiers), whether they were black or white, she was like a mother and big sister to these guys, telling them it's going to be okay! It appeared while reading this book that the junior nurses, her corpsmen, and the doctors/surgeons with whom she worked along side with, Colonel Bradley was highly praised and respected! Very Good book . I enjoyed reading every page of this book.
