THE AGE OF CAPITAL 1848-75 BY ERIC HOBSBAWM PDF

The first and best, major treatment of the crucial years 1848-1875, a penetrating analysis of the rise of capitalism through the world. In the 1860s a new word entered the economic and political vocabulary of the world: 'capitalism'. The global triumph of capitalism is the major theme of history in the decades after 1848. It was the triumph of a society which believed that economic growth rests on competitive private enterprise, on success in buying everything in the cheapest market (including labour) and selling it in the dearest. An economy so based, and therefore nestling naturally on the sound foundations of a bourgeoisie composed of those whom energy, merit and intelligence had raised to their position and kept there, would - it was believed - not only create a world of suitably distributed material plenty but of ever-growing enlightenment, reason and human opportunity, an advance of the sciences and the arts, in brief a world of continuous and accelerating material and moral progress.

An obvious Work of Historical genius

By Paul P.

The second book of of Hobsbawm's "The Age of" books is a little denser than the first but still an obvious work of historical genius. A word of warning to the uninformed, Hobsbawm is a communist and displays all of the attendant biases associated with that. It is, none the less, an undeniable fact that he has an unmatched command of his subject and the intellectual qualities to share said command with controlled grace. A book well worth the read for those interested in either the specific period or the subject of historiography.
